What's New in the ReelPortal Server?

ReelPortal - Visual Video Communication System allows you to host a video conference in the cloud. Just select a session host (it can be any computer on the LAN). Each session host will stream the video images to the participants, and a corresponding video recording file will be saved to the local disk. The local session host can be connected to a remote session host from any location on the world, to participate in a conference in real time. ReelPortal - a visual solution to video conferencing allows you to create video meetings between multiple users in your LAN and around the world. Live Video Chats: Just select a session host (it can be any computer on the LAN) and press the "Create a Session" button. The session host will create a video conference between you and other users and starts streaming the video images from the speakers to other participants. Recordings: Each participant can save the recorded video file to the local disk, which will be the only way to save and restore the conference session. The recorded video file can be viewed and sent to other users. ReelPortal is a graphical client-server application and is capable of running over different network protocols and platforms. It is compatible with most Windows operating systems (including all the Windows versions from 95/98/2000/XP/Vista/7), Mac OS, Linux and BSD platforms (including most of the open source video systems, like Skype, Google Video Chat, Jitsi, Ekiga, etc.). Client Features: Easy Installation Requires no license Super fast connections Connection to almost any video device No special software required No special hardware required No setup required No extra software installation required No standard telephone line required No monthly fees required Client GUI: Graphical user interface Toolbar Status bar Tabs Text and listboxes Client Scalability: Multi-threaded Run on computers with few resources Run on the servers with many users Client Security: Only allows connections from other ReelPortal clients Handles all the video conferencing protocols, including v5/H.264, RTSP, WebRTC, MJPEG, AVI, etc.
