The program does not overwrite the Windows XP system. Ever forget to click "Back" on your web browser, or even worse, you accidentally close the browser window? You can now get out of this situation with JustWinClick. JustWinClick automatically checks your entire computer to find all instances of your web browser windows. Due to the fact that I really like the Windows Shell, I created a program for Windows that helps me to easily resize, move and bring windows to the front by pressing the Ctrl-Alt-Insert keys. If you want to easily resize, move or bring Windows to the front, you should try the "Windows Aero Snap" feature. But it only works with the Aero theme installed on Windows 7. So I created a
